APPROVAL PROCESS  DECEIVED  APR 29 2015  REVISED 10/10/13
Proposed Changes:
1. Remove PSYC 395 as lab option for CHAD majors.
2. For CHAD majors wishing to minor in Psychology, require 12 units of study unique to the Psychology minor (i.e., no overlap with the CHAD major).
3. Limit the use of independent study and supervision courses as electives for the PSYC minor.

Rationale for Program Change: Psychology Minor:
1. PSYC 395 Laboratory in Developmental Psychology is a required course in the CHAD major. The Psychology minor should require that students have experiences beyond those of the major. Therefore, we will want to prohibit CHAD majors from using PSYC 395 as the lab course in the psychology minor and have them choose another lab instead. The language in the catalog and minors worksheet would include the following: Special Conditions for Bachelor of Arts and Minor in Psychology: Students majoring in Child and Adolescent Development and Human Development may not satisfy the lab requirement for the Psychology minor with PSYC 395.
2. In order to ensure that CHAD majors who wish to get additional training in Psychology by earning a minor actually take additional coursework, the minor needs to contain twelve units beyond those used for the CHAD major requirements. That is, students will need to take 12 units in psychology that do not count for CHAD. This will provide students with additional breadth in Psychology.
3. We limit student use of independent study and supervision courses as electives for the major, and this same restriction needs to be placed on the electives in the minor. The restriction (maximum of 3 total units of PSYC 498 and/or 499, and 1 instance of PSYC 495) is included as part of the major to ensure curricular breadth. That goal is even more important for the minor, which has many fewer other required courses and menus.
Catalog Copy for BA and Minor in Psychology:

Special Conditions for the Bachelor of Arts and Minor in Psychology

All courses counted toward the major, including Preparation for the Major courses, and the minor must be completed with a grade of C (2.0) or better. No more than a total of three (3) units of either PSYC 498 or PSYC 499 may be applied toward the major or minor. No more than three (3) units of PSYC 495 may be applied toward the major or minor. A minimum of eighteen (18) units counted toward the psychology major must have been completed at Cal State San Marcos. For the Minor, nine (9) units must have been completed at Cal State San Marcos. Students majoring in Child and Adolescent Development (CHAD) or Human Development may not satisfy the lab requirement for the Psychology Minor with PSYC 395. Courses taken at other universities for which we do not have articulation agreements will not be counted toward the major or minor at Cal State San Marcos without the written permission of any member of the Psychology faculty listed above.

MINOR IN PSYCHOLOGY

The Minor in Psychology consists of 21 units. Students majoring in Child and Adolescent Development (CHAD) interested in the Minor in Psychology will need to take 12 units in Psychology coursework that do not count for CHAD. This will provide CHAD students with additional breadth in Psychology.

Hi Alice,

I hope this email finds you doing well! As we have launched the CHAD major, we now have to do some “cleaning up” of items that came to our attention right away. I have attached the following for your review:

1. P2 form for a change in the Psychology major
   a. We are removing the GE designation from Psyc 356: Developmental Psychology: Adulthood and Aging.
   b. We are adding Psyc 356 into the Developmental Core for Psychology majors (it was taken out by mistake). It will not serve as a prerek for the Psyc 395 lab (which HD students can’t take to satisfy the minor).

   The impact on your students: none. They can still take Psyc 356 but it won’t count for GE (it didn’t for your majors anyway). The prerek will be Psyc 100 (which your students take anyway).

2. C2 form for Psyc 356
   a. This has the changes described in 1b.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact me. After you review these changes if you are in agreement, please send me an email stating this so I can include it with the paperwork for the Curriculum Committee in CHABSS.

Thanks very much for your consideration.

Hi Denise,
It was GREAT seeing you yesterday! I am so happy for all of my nursing friends and colleagues — what a beautiful space.

I am in the process of doing some “clean-up” work for the new CHAD program. We are submitting paperwork to make the following change that may affect your students:

1. C2 form for a change in the Psychology major
   a. We are removing the GE designation from Psyc 356: Developmental Psychology: Adulthood and Aging. We are doing this so the course can fit in Psychology’s Developmental core (part of the major requirements). The prereq will be Psyc 100 and the course is open to anyone who has satisfied the prereq.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns. If you read through it and are OK with the change, please send me an email stating that you approve it. I will attach the email to the form for our curriculum committee.

Thanks very much, Denise. And Happy Valentine’s Day!
Sharon
