Dear Sue,

Thank you very much.

It is the Precede-Proceed Model.

Sincerely,

Noriko

Hi Noriko,

I don't think you need to actually send anything back to UCC as these are mainly editorial and we will make the necessary changes to pre/co requisites.

Can you just confirm that the model is Precede-Proceed and not Proceed-Proceed?

Lastly, we await Psychology's response.

Dear Sue,

Thank you very much for your message and feedback.

I will accept the feedback of UCC and fix the syllabi as soon as possible.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,
Noriko Toyokawa

Importance: High

Hello Noriko,

I hope this email finds you well. UCC has completed its review of HD 302, 303, and 304. We have the following questions/comments:

HD 302:

1. UCC will remove HD 220 from the prerequisite list as it is already embedded. We await sign-off from psychology. Nothing for you to do, just information.

HD 303:

1. UCC will remove all embedded prerequisites and just leave pre/co-requisite HD 302. Nothing for you to do, just informational.
2. Please just clarify that the model is called "Precede-Proceed" as it has different references in the documents (sometimes being called Proceed-Proceed).
3. Note to you for your syllabus: Kellogg Library is not a public Library.
4. We also await sign-off from psychology. Nothing for you to do, just informational.

HD 304:

1. UCC is proposing the following minor edit to the second sentence of the course description: Involves writing a full proposal for a community intervention program that addresses the needs of those in the adult stage of development using the Precede-Proceed Model.
2. Again, leave only HD 302 as a pre/co-requisite as all others are embedded. Nothing to do, just informational.
3. Again, note that Kellogg library is not a public library.

Much thanks. We look forward to hearing back on these minor edits.

Best,
Sue
