AIS 400 Q4 -

Since this course has no prerequisites, the students' knowledge will be assessed early on through a short, informal question and answer session that is administered either orally or through an online quiz on Cougar Courses, titled "What Students Know About American Indians and How Do They Know It?" This assessment helps the instructor gauge the student knowledge base about the American Indian's health and wellness issues. Opportunities for students to "fill in the gaps" through additional readings, videos, discussions, etc. have been developed and are provided where necessary.
