Changes to the Minor in Criminology and Justice Studies

During a curricular review we noticed that, for the Minor in Criminology and Justice Studies, we do not have all the area 1 electives listed.

We do have: 308, 322, 324, 327, 396, 406, 417, 443, 444, 445, 448, and 449.

With this P2 we wish to add the following electives: 339, 418, 437, 465, 490

(in a P2 currently under submission for the major in Criminology and Justice Studies we include a C2 for SOC 465 changing the course description and a request to move SOC 465 from Area 2 to Area 1).

MINOR IN CRIMINOLOGY AND JUSTICE STUDIES

The major purpose of the Minor in Criminology and Justice Studies is to provide an expanded and more focused concentration on the study of criminology and the criminal justice system regarding: 1) the study of deviance and the incidence and explanations for delinquency and crime; 2) methods of prevention and control of delinquency and crime; and 3) characteristics and practices of the criminal justice system. Moreover, students will select a set of courses that add to this core, such as the study of women and crime and the comparative study of crime in different societies. Students will broadly analyze the origins, causes, and consequences of crime and the structure of the criminal justice system in order to gain greater mastery of this socially important and very timely topic.

The Minor in Criminology and Justice Studies is offered through the Sociology Department. All courses for this minor can be viewed within the Sociology course listings. Advising for this minor is provided by the Sociology Department.
