Memo December 7, 2015

The enclosed C-2 forms change current abbreviations from VPA or VSAR to AMD. AMD is a new designation that better distinguishes the curricular approach and will provide clarity and transparency for students choosing the new major in Art, Media, and Design. While the new major paperwork is pending, there is precedent on campus for using new course acronyms before majors are finalized, for example the new Convergent Journalism (CJRN) designation. AMD courses will be housed within the School of Arts.
