ANTHROPOLOGY BREADTH ELECTIVES*:

Any additional Upper Division ANTH courses
BIOL 321 Human Physiology
BIOL 323 Physiology of Nutrition and Disease
BIOL 336 Coastal Environments
BIOL 338 Human Impact on the Environment
BIOL 339 Conservation Biology
BRS 300 Borders and Regions in Interdisciplinary Perspectives
BRS 330 Introduction to Migration Studies
BRS 400 Comparative Border and Regional Studies
BRS 430 Immigration and Education
COMM 380 Health Communication
COMM 330 Theories of Intercultural Communication
CHEM 312 Chemistry of Life
ECON 323 Health Economics
GEOG 305/US-Mexico Border
GBST 300 Global Economics, Politics and Society
HIST 337 American Indian Response to White Expansion
HIST 338 Modern US Indian Policy
HIST 345 Immigrant Experience
HIST 347 California History
HIST 350 Chicano/a Experience in the Borderlands
HIST 352 Mexico Past and Present
ID 202 Pre-Health Service Learning
ID 306 Dilemmas of Modern Mexico
LBST 307 Children and the Environment
LING 341 Language Issues in the US
LING 371 Language and Culture
LING 451 Bilingualism
LING 480 Linguistic Field Methods
LTWR 310 Folklore and Mythology
MASS 302 Production and Meaning
MASS 481 Teaching Media in the Community
MUSC 421 Survey of World Music
NATV 390 Independent Study Native Themes
NATV 498 Internship in Native American Communities
NURS 452 Legal Aspects of Health Care
PHIL 340 Ethics and the Environment
PHIL 345 Bioethics and Medical Ethics
PSCI 396 Green Planet Politics
PSYC 338 Environmental Psychology
PSYC 341 Multicultural Perspectives
SOC 314 Health and Society
SOC 333B Human Service Field Work
SOC 419 Inequalities and Health
SOC/WMST 424 Women and Health
SOC 439 Social Justice and the Environment
SOC Topics in Health and Mental Health
TA 325 Latino/Chicano Theatre in the U.S.
VPA 311 Arts of World Cultures
VSAR 323 Chicano Art in the Border Region
VSAR 440 Digital Arts and Indigenous Communities
WMST 350 Chicana and Latina Feminist Thought

*Additional courses may be approved for the Breadth Electives. Please see Anthropology Faculty for Course Approvals.