Cal State San Marcos Scholar-Athlete Banquet

Recognizing those who star both on the field and in the classroom

*Presented by the Cal State San Marcos
Office of Athletics*

Dear Scholar-Athletes:

So much of what one hears about intercollegiate athletics and academics these days is not good. At many universities, it seems, the educational mission of the institution takes a decidedly back seat to athletics. We routinely read of Final Four basketball teams that graduate less than ten percent of their players; many major college football programs function as de facto minor league farm systems for the professional ranks. The "student" part of student-athlete seems somehow lost in much of the world of college sports.

That is why I am so proud of your achievements, and why we have devoted this night to celebrating them. You represent what intercollegiate athletics should be. Your excellence in both classroom and competition is testament to the fact that intellectual and athletic pursuits can be complementary, not contradictory, efforts.

Congratulations on your outstanding record as scholars and athletes, and thank you for the fine example and high standard of excellence you have set for your peers.

With warm regards,

Stephen M. Nichols, Ph.D.

Jennell French, Golf

A star on the women's golf team for the last four years, Jennell French won her school-record fourth individual tournament title at Regionals this spring. The senior has finished in the top-10 at Nationals twice, and has been named Honorable Mention All-American three times. Jennell, a four-time Scholar-Athlete, will receive her Liberal Studies degree this spring with her depth of study in Biology and Physics.

Richie Gray, Track

A senior, Richie Gray has been a solid member of the CSUSM track and cross country teams both athletically and academically. As part of the 4x800 meter relay team, he has finished in the top-10 at Nationals three times during his college career, earning All-American status in 2003. Richie is graduating this spring with a degree in Biochemistry.
