Lead

Leaders are not born, they are made.

However you look at it, great leaders, like trees, grow naturally; but not without certain essential elements. The leadership programs in Extended Learning at California State University San Marcos will enhance your natural, proven leadership skills by providing the innovative and universal elements of visionary leadership.

What are you waiting for?

LEARN

Begin your leadership journey here...

Leadership Quest takes you through a process of discovery where you will uncover your unique leadership style. Your discovery process will include the opportunity to learn the latest innovations in organizational leadership.

Leadership Quest engages you with excellent faculty; each one an expert in the field of leadership development. Our faculty will present leadership theories and frameworks, while guiding you through a process of identifying how universal theory relates to your own leadership style. You will also have access to a highly sophisticated, online personal development program. An assessment will identify your strengths as well as areas for improvement. The program will coach you through the mastery of new skills that run like a common thread through generations of strong leaders. Ultimately, you will research various opportunities for creative involvement in your community and create a working action plan.

Leadership Quest provides an excellent forum for learning cutting-edge theory and translating what you learn in the classroom to real life application - all in a supportive and collegial learning environment.

LEADERSHIP NORTH COUNTY SAN DIEGO

You don't have to be an elected official to make a difference; all you need is Leadership North County

"Whether you are in media, government, finance or education, Leadership North County provides you with knowledge you will use for the rest of your career. Insider information about North County, the high-caliber of speakers, and conversations with leaders of all major industries are just a few of the reasons why this program is so powerful."

—Jacob Rush,
Production Manager,
KOCT-TV, Oceanside

"Leadership North County helped me dive into the issues facing North County, giving me a depth of understanding that makes me a better public servant."

—Lydia Romero,
Deputy City Manager,
City of San Marcos

GROW

Expand your sphere of influence...

Leadership North County shows you how to engage in your community as an effective leader. Once a month you meet to examine a specific issue from multiple perspectives. You will benefit from personal and open access to established leaders in government, business, healthcare and education. Through a series of speakers and teaching tours, you will learn how to gather a wide variety of information regarding the specific issue and synthesize it through group discussion while wrestling with the recurring question, "what do we do now?"

Leadership North County begins every year in September, and continues through June. During those months you will learn, through your own existing experience and newfound insights, how to strategically address important regional issues with discernment and creativity.
