79% completed the quiz prior to attending Orientation
59% of respondents who completed the Pre-Orientation homework rated it as “helpful”

Pre-Orientation homework feedback (in response to the open ended question, “Were the presentations helpful in preparing you for the course registration process?”):

- Each presentation had plenty of information that was and will be very helpful during my educational years at CSUSM.
- Explained the lower and upper level GE requirements very well.
- I felt like I knew how to handle everything thanks to the information I received from the presentation.
- I was able to come to orientation with any questions not answered, although it did answer most of my questions.
- It allowed me to feel comfortable with registering and I didn't have to ask too many questions on how to do it
- Less anxious about attending alone. I knew what was going to be covered.
- On the day of orientation, it didn't feel like they were just throwing and overwhelming you with information; you have background knowledge beforehand because of the presentations so it didn't seem to baffling and confusing.
- Yes! This presentation helped bridge the gap I was feeling between my high school and my college experience. It showed me what I should be expecting as I enter this chapter of my life.
- Yes. When I attended orientation and the same subjects were brought up, I was confident because I was already educated on these topics thanks to the videos.
