Funding an Entrepreneurial Venture

DESCRIPTION: There are many ways to fund a new venture, starting with sweat equity through “friends-and-family” plans, angel investment, and venture capital investment. In this workshop, students will explore the key elements and methods of funding a new entrepreneurial venture and which elements are most appropriate. Additionally, in the workshop we will explore ownership, dilution, and valuation in a closely-held early stage company.