

PROJECT CONCERN INTERNATIONAL

Saving lives and building healthy communities

Project Concern International is an international development organization that saves the lives of children and families by preventing disease and providing access to clean water and nutritious food.

You are cordially invited to PCI's Open House
on Student Internship And Volunteer Opportunities

Friday, October 8, 2004
11:00 am – 1:00pm

Interested in a career in international development? Public health? International relations?

Want some exposure in a non-governmental agency?

Seek experience in programs related to HIV/AIDS, maternal and child health, disease prevention, water sanitation, and/or food security?

Have a desire to learn about PCI programs in India, Indonesia, Zambia, Bolivia, Nicaragua, Honduras, Guatemala, El Salvador, San Diego, and/or Mexico?

If you answered “yes” to any one of the above questions, then come and hear from several PCI staff and volunteers about what PCI has to offer to its interns and volunteers.

Refreshments served. Space is limited, so please RSVP by Tuesday, October 5.
