Office of Academic Programs
Hi Virginia,

Sure, the rationale is this: The term “Management” is too broad to adequately reflect the course content. Moreover, using the term “Management” to reflect the content of the course, which has always been “Organizational Behavior,” is simply outdated and does not reflect the changing nature of this academic field.

Regina can attest to this (this is her field), and perhaps provide any tweaking to the language if needed.

Thank you for your assistance,
Jeff
