6. Catalog Description: Focuses on applied and evaluation social research. Addresses actual problems of conducting social research in diverse communities. Special consideration is given to methods for tailoring research strategies to different environments, setting up diagnostic procedures, monitoring programs, determining accountability, and designing impact assessments. Incorporates practice in the methods of applied social research: sampling, question wording, data collection, techniques of interviewing, mail questionnaire design, telephone surveys, focus groups, and group interviewing. Sensitivity to ethnicity, gender, class, and age will be emphasized. Enrollment restricted to students enrolled in the Master of Arts in Sociological Practice Program.	Catalog Description: (Not to exceed 80 words; language should conform to catalog copy. Please consult the catalog for models of style and format; include all necessary information regarding consent for enrollment, pre- and/or corequisites, repeated enrollment, crosslisting, as detailed below. Such information does not count toward the 80-word limit.) Introduction to graduate level social science research. Exposes students to the methods that sociologists use to make sense of the world and to think critically about the research process. Focuses upon the strengths and weaknesses of qualitative and quantitative research approaches. Addresses challenges of conducting social research in diverse communities and the importance of gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, class, age, religion, ability, and sexuality in the construction of research. Students will practice writing elements of a thesis proposal. Enrollment restricted to students enrolled in the Master of Arts in Sociological Practice Program
