The Definition of Upper Division GE Courses:

Upper Division General Education provides an opportunity for students to learn about areas of study outside their academic major. Upper Division General Education courses assume satisfaction of Lower Division General Education Requirements and develop upper division skills. Courses should not require discipline-specific prerequisites. Designed for non-majors, these courses make explicit the basic assumptions, principles and methods of the disciplinary or interdisciplinary area of study. This conceptual framework and the applicability of these principles and methods should be emphasized throughout the course.

Upper Division General Education courses should help students see how disciplines, ideas, issues and knowledge are often interrelated, intersecting and interconnected. Upper Division General Education courses should present knowledge which can enhance students’ lives outside the classroom or their studies in other subjects. These courses should also provide students with a classroom environment that fosters independent, active, engaged learning and a genuine curiosity about the subject matter.

Upper Division General Education courses shall be three-unit courses so that three such courses will exactly correspond with the 9-unit Upper Division General Education requirement of the CSU.

Upper division general-education students may have fulfilled their lower division area C requirements in broad, interdisciplinary courses or in a different discipline than the discipline in which this course is offered. Please explain how this course introduces such students to the basic assumptions, principles and methods of the discipline, and how connection is made between these fundamentals and the particular applications emphasized in the course.

Criteria for Upper Division Area CC Courses:

These questions will help the General Education Committee decide if the course belongs in the Humanities category

~Specify how this course represents both past and present approaches to at least one of the following: a) spirituality, b) the arts, c) philosophy or intellectual thought.

~Specify how in this course students address issues involving both the cognitive and affective aspects of human experience either using critical analysis or creative activity.

~Provide specific examples of the way in which this course examines at least one of the following: aesthetic, metaphysical, or ethical manifestations of the human intellect in at least one of the following contexts: a) diverse historical contexts; b) diverse cultural contexts.

Assessment for Upper Division Area CC Courses:

This question will help the General Education Committee to evaluate whether you have planned sufficiently for assessing the success of your course.

~Give examples explaining how the work assigned to students (quizzes, tests, essays, projects, etc.) allows you to measure how successful individual students are in meeting the UDGE learning objectives for this course. Please attach an example of the type of assignment you will use to evaluate how successfully students meet the UDGE learning objectives

~If you use any course assessment activities (e.g., “pre” and “post” testing, class-wide analysis of individual test questions, etc.) that measure whether or not the class as a whole successfully meets the General Education learning objectives for this course, please attach examples of these as well.
