The past two weeks have been very relaxed for me. I have been in touch with my committees and preparing to meet with them later this month. I am excited for James' movie night tomorrow! I'll be helping with tabling during the event. Continuing to communicate with those who are sitting on the Pinning Down Pronouns panel, and looped Octavio in on the details now that he is fully in his position. Also collabing on an event around finals between both DEI Reps and the Cross Cultural Center!

On boarding our newest members is near complete and going well - both are getting well integrated into the office. Wellness and Rec Facility tabling and outreach has also been a huge success although, besides participating, this isn't my project. Giving Day campaigning has also been going great - participated in a photoshoot for it and am excited for the results. Directly with my role, I continue to meet with individual Board members and can proudly say that everyone has a project or idea that they are working on!

Q9. Updates on University Committees

- Social Justice Symposium Finalized a date for the event (Feb 27 & 28) and it's collaborators, going through the budget process now. - Per the UPD & Safety Advisory Committee - I am working on a student project for PD development for those wanting to go into the field and just had a meeting finalizing that. - Student Philanthropy Council - just had a meeting finalizing the plans for Giving Day and had a networking session - Library Student Advisory Board is focused on getting student input for the way different sections of the library handle their survey feedback and we have had two sessions with different areas of the library to go over how they receive feedback - continuing with their Banned Book events. I also helped with their own giving day campaign - Professional Advancement Travel Committee - has used up all the current funds and will no longer be meeting until other funds are acquired - GISC just had a meeting in which I was invited to share my input and thoughts from GI25 and what I hope can be installed for future cohorts that are historically under represented - UCC reviewed classes and prerequisites when it comes Women&Gender Studies, Mathematics - SGAC and SGC have not met yet - which is a good thing

Wellness and Rec Survey is statistically relevant with more than 10% of the student population participating. Our out reach events with Campus Rec, Cougar Pantry, and many others have contributed to these successes. Presentations with our student athletes and campus sports clubs have helped boost our survey numbers. Lastly, about WRF. I am happy to say that the developers have successfully agreed to provide two courts and on rooftop turf field! This is something that our students have been advocating for. This is a huge step for the project and the students in mind. On Thursday, VP of Student Affairs, Dr. Viridiana Diaz, and I led the Title IX Open Student Forum in the USU Conference Room where we engaged in meaningful dialogue and addressed student concerns. Giving Day is upon us and I am happy with the preparation for our social media campaign. ASI is focused on committing our Giving Day Fund to support our Cougar Pantry's operations.
