Employee Update on the Resuming of California's Economy

Pursuant to 19 months of COVID-19 public health restrictions and color-coded system, Sage Days, San Marcos. This newsletter contains full information on California’s economy. Access to California, and Kent Lucia, a faculty member at San Marcos, cites a panel of state public health officials with the latest COVID-19 updates. Men, women, and children are welcome.

As of today, all students in the system must report a list of symptoms and contact tracing information to the COVID-19 Response Team. For more information on CA COVID-19, visit the State of California website.

While mask-wearing will not be required indoors or outside, there are certain circumstances where masks may be required, including in hospitals, nursing homes, and healthcare facilities, where they are a condition of employment. In indoor public spaces, masks are still recommended for the unvaccinated.

Wearing masks indoors, even when vaccinated, is strongly recommended when social distancing and other safety measures may be compromised.

For more information, please visit the California Department of Public Health website or the California Department of Education website.

Ongoing Updates and Information

You are invited to attend several upcoming events intended to provide support, resources and information about the return to campus this fall:

- You haven’t had a chance to get your vaccine yet, we highly encourage you to check with your local health department or local public health department to find out where you can get vaccinated: engaging every student, faculty, and staff member; organizing their college initiatives to support the vaccination of at least 70% of U.S. adults by July 4. Participating in the COVID-19 Vaccination Program is a requirement for all faculty and staff who access campus facilities at any university location. The program will be implemented in two phases: the first phase will begin on Aug. 2, and the second phase will begin on Sept. 1.

- CSUSM Corporation employees will transition back to campus on the same schedule, and information about the return to campus will be provided as soon as it is available.

- For those interested in ongoing telecommuting, the Office of Human Resources is working to implement an updated telecommuting policy for the fall semester. The new policy will be effective at the beginning of fall 2021.

- The University’s fall 2021 semester schedule will be published in early August. The schedule will include courses that are available online, as well as those that are delivered in person.

- The schedule will also include information about the return to campus, including the dates for resuming on-campus operations. More information will be provided as soon as it is available.

- The University is implementing a mandatory mask-wearing policy for all students, faculty, and staff who are on campus on Aug. 2.

- The policy will be enforced by the campus community, including students, faculty, and staff, in order to maintain a safe and healthy environment for everyone.

- Masks will be optional outdoors with physical distancing in place. Masks will be required indoors with physical distancing in place.
