

San Marcos Writing Project Presents
The Elementary Reading and Writing Connection
2-Day Workshop Series

June 22 and 29, 2019

9:00 AM - 3:00 PM

University Hall 444

This workshop offers practical tools, strategies, and resources for nonfiction reading and writing to use with all of your students including English learners in grades 2-6. The CA ELA/ELD Standards will be revisited and participants will learn effective writing strategies aligned with them. At the end of the two days, you'll have new ways to reflect on your classroom practice and lots of new scaffolds and structures to support your language learners.

This two-day workshop includes:

- Using multiple texts to respond to a prompt
- Deconstructing writing prompts
- Researching to build and present knowledge
- Opinion writing for real purposes and real audiences
- Teacher-friendly/student-centered revision process
- Strategies for differentiating reading and writing instruction
- Effective discussion strategies that develop oral language and critical thinking

Workshop Facilitators: San Marcos Writing Project Co-director Nancy Pace-Skinner and San Marcos Writing Project Teacher Leaders Terri Lucero and Jody Ordonez.

Participants will receive all materials, supplies and relevant readings.

Light breakfast will be provided both days. Lunch is on your own.
