

REFERENCE PAGE

A Reference list follows the text and footnotes in a separate section headed References. All references cited in the text must be listed in the reference section, and vice versa. The list is alphabetized and double-spaced. Be sure to include all authors in the citation, avoid using 'et al.' in the reference page. All citations longer than one line have a .5 inch hanging indent:

References

Bursik, Robert J., and Harold G. Grasmick. 1993.

Neighborhoods and Crime: The Dimensions of Effective Community Control. New York: Lexington Books.

REFERENCE EXAMPLES

BOOKS

Author1 (last name inverted), Author2 (including full surname, last name is not inverted), and Author3. Year of publication. Name of publication. Location of publisher, state, or province postal code (or name of country if a foreign publisher): Publisher's Name.

Bursik, Robert J., and Harold G. Grasmick. 1993.

Neighborhoods and Crime: The Dimensions of Effective Community Control. New York: Lexington Books.

➤ Note: For all types of references, when there are only two authors or editors, there is a comma after the name of the first author or editor.

CHAPTERS IN BOOKS OR OTHER COLLECTED WORKS

Author1 last name, Author1 first name, Author2 first and last name, and Author3 first and last name. Year of publication. "Title of Article." Pp.# in Name of Publication, edited by Editor 1 first initials and last name, Location of publisher, state, or province postal code: Publisher's Name.

Note: When a DOI is included, it should be copied and pasted from the article. If DOI is not included, copy and paste URL.

ONLINE SUPPLEMENTAL MATERIALS TO JOURNAL ARTICLES

Occasionally, supplemental information is published online in conjunction with a journal article. For ASA journals, these are not documents of record. They should be cited as follows:

Author1 last name, Author 1 first name, Author2 first and last name, and Author3 first and last name. Year of publication. "Title of Article." Name of publication Volume Number (Issue Number): Page numbers of article. Retrieved from (URL).

Tofason, Magnus Thor and Paul Ingram. 2010. "The Global Rise of Democracy: A Network Account." Online supplement to Article in American Sociological Review 75(3):355-77. Retrieved July 12, 2010 (<http://www2.asanet.org/journals/asr/2010/torfasonjune10.pdf>).

ARTICLES FROM E-RESOURCES

Articles and books obtained from the Internet follow the same pattern as those cited above, with the exception that page numbers are omitted, and the URL and date of access are included.

Schafer, Daniel W., and Fred L. Ramsey. 2003. "Teaching the Craft of Data Analysis." Journal of Statistics Education 11(1). Retrieved July 11, 2010 (<http://www.amstat.org/publications/jse/v11n1/schafer.html>).

LEGAL AND GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

Legal citations may be included in text citations and reference lists, especially for court decisions, statutes, and certain types of legislative materials.

Reference to constitutions, laws, ordinances

U.S. Constitution: U.S Constitution, Article 1, Section 4.

Reference to court decisions

U.S. Supreme Court: Brown v. Board of Education, 347 U.S. 483 (1954).

Reference to legal periodicals and treaties

Butler, Paul. 1996. "Affirmative Action and the Criminal Law." University of Colorado Law Review 68(4): 841-89.

If cases are retrieved from an online database, access information should be included.

Citing sources requires two forms of citation:

(1) a brief in-text citation next to any material you have summarized, paraphrased, or quoted.

(2) a corresponding citation with more detail within a list of all your sources on a Reference page.

IN-TEXT CITATIONS

Citations in the text include the last name of the author(s) and the year of publication in parenthesis. Include page numbers when quoting directly from a work or paraphrasing specific passages.

Quoting or Paraphrasing

-She asserts that "even those who work the hardest may be disadvantaged because of institutional policies" (Rancon 1999:85)

One Author

-In the work of Diaz (1972), we see a shift in the field's concerns toward accessibility.

-We see a shift in the field's concerns toward accessibility (Diaz 1972).

Two Authors

-The history of privilege is one of systematic and social oppression (Watson and Shelby 2004).

Three or More Authors

Provide the last names of all authors in the first citation, then replace all but the first author's name with "et al."

-Library resources can have a positive impact on small community building (Carr, Smith, and Jones 1982:14).

-Librarians themselves play tremendous roles in directing and informing such communities. (Carr et al. 1982:16).
